Dear Mr. Lucht,

Your failure to respond to my letter of March 31, your refusal to take my repeated phone calls or to respond in any way except by having an announcer, who is without authority, call me, make you additionally responsible for the additional damage done me by Sherman Skolnick in his ego-tripping, entirely spurious suit against the National Archives.

Were it not for the damage and anguish this causes me, I'd consider it ridiculous. For this self-styled legal researcher is charging conspiracy against those of whom he has never asked anything. As of yesterday, when I inquired, he had not once written the National Archives asking for anything. And much of what he states from me came from the National Archives. Do they are "suppressing" what he attached to his complaint?

However, had you assumed your proper responsibility when I first wrote and phoned you, I believe this added and needless damage to me would have been avoided.

I renew my request for a tape. I understand you regularly make these available and despite Mr. Webber's contrary statement, whether or not on your behalf, I have every reason to believe you can supply it. I also ask for any and all statements and releases, etc., you may have made, copies of any advertising or plugs or promotional materials of any kind - anything you may have said or broadcast about this entire matter.

You should understand I regard this as seriously damaging to me and my work and interests. If I do not hear from you promptly I will take whatever steps seem appropriate.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
